2.9. Training process diagram

Description of the Chinese Language program, Cohort 2024

2.10. Brief description of the courses

SOS1101 - Fundamentals of Vietnamese Culture: 03 credits.

This course provides an overview of Vietnamese culture, covering the natural and social conditions that have shaped its formation, as well as the foundations and development of Vietnam's traditional cultural identity. It identifies cultural regions and distinctive features of traditional Vietnamese culture, and examines the evolution and transformation of these traditions in the context of industrialisation and globalisation. The course equips students with fundamental cultural knowledge to help interpret social phenomena from a cultural perspective, thereby ensuring a solid cultural foundation for Chinese Language majors in their future professional activities.

SOC1101 - Sociology: 03 credits.

This course introduces the fundamental concepts of Sociology, including its subject of study, core terminology, and key issues within the discipline. It also presents selected classical and contemporary sociologists along with their theoretical perspectives and contributions to the development of Sociology. Additionally, the course provides an overview of major sociological theoretical approaches, as well as general methods of social research and specific methodologies used in sociological inquiry.

POL1111 - Marxist-Leninist Philosophy: 03 credits.

This foundational course provides scientific knowledge on Marxist–Leninist philosophy, enhancing students' abilities in scientific and critical thinking about the objective world. Chapter 1: Introduction to philosophy and the role of Marxist–Leninist philosophy in society. Chapter 2: Core principles of dialectical materialism, including matter and consciousness, dialectical laws, and the theory of knowledge. Chapter 3: Fundamental aspects of historical materialism, such as socio- economic formations, class and nation, the state and social revolution, social consciousness, and philosophical views on human beings.

POL1112 - Marxist-Leninist Political Economics: 02 credits.

This course provides foundational knowledge in Marxist–Leninist political economy, aiming to enhance students' scientific understanding of the objective world and economic theories. It helps students analyse and evaluate theoretical and practical economic issues within their fields of study.

The curriculum includes six chapters, starting with the subject, research methods, and functions of Marxist–Leninist political economy. Subsequent chapters focus on key issues such as commodities, markets, the role of economic actors, surplus value, competition and monopoly, the socialist-oriented market economy in Vietnam, and the country's industrial revolution and international economic integration.

POL1113 - Scientific Socialism: 02 credits.

This course includes seven chapters, with Chapter 1 introducing the basics and historical development of scientific socialism. Chapters 2 to 7 cover the core contents of scientific socialism, offering a theoretical framework for understanding socialist ideologies and practices.

POL1114 - Ho Chi Minh Ideology: 02 credits.

This course introduces learners to the comprehensive and profound ideological framework of Ho Chi Minh concerning the Vietnamese revolutionary cause. It covers key ideas on national liberation, class emancipation, human liberation, national independence in association with socialism, the unity of national and global strength, the power of the people, national solidarity, and international solidarity. It also addresses the construction of a state “of the people, by the people, for the people”, as well as revolutionary ethics, culture, and the development of a new human personality. Students are encouraged to apply these principles in their studies and personal development in the modern era.

POL1115 - History of the Communist Party of Vietnam: 02 credits.

This course provides knowledge on the leadership role of the Communist Party of Vietnam. Following an introductory section, the course consists of five main lessons: 1: Object, function, tasks, content, and methods of studying the Party's history. 2: The founding of the Communist Party of Vietnam and its leadership in the struggle for power (1930–1945). 3: The Party's leadership in two resistance wars and the national reunification (1945–1975). 4: The Party's leadership during the transition to socialism and the renewal process (1975–2018). 5: Conclusion.

LAW1101 - Introduction to Law: 03 credits.

This course studies the State and the Law from the Marxist–Leninist perspective, addressing the most fundamental issues such as the origin, nature, types, and functions of the State and the Law. It also explores the principles of state organisation, as well as forms and structures for exercising state power.

ITE1201 - Introduction to Computer Basics: 03 credits.

This course equips students with foundational knowledge in information technology, including: basic IT concepts; operations on files, folders, and drives; internet tools such as web browsing, email, and information storage; use of common utility software such as Unikey and WinRAR; document processing with Microsoft Word; spreadsheet use with Excel; and presentation design using PowerPoint.

ENG3101 - English 1: 04 credits.

This course helps students develop vocabulary, grammar, pronunciation, and cultural understanding of English-speaking countries. It enables them to apply listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills in daily communication on topics such as personal information, school subjects, food and drink, travel, emotions, opinions, personal goals, and life tips. The course fosters learners' awareness of self-directed learning, teamwork, defending personal viewpoints, and lifelong learning. It serves as an essential foundation for improving students' confidence in communication and their ability to use English for studying and exploring relevant subjects and disciplines, thus highlighting the role of English in professional and academic development.

ENG3102 - English 2: 04 credits.

This course continues to enhance students' vocabulary, grammar, pronunciation, and cultural knowledge of English-speaking countries. It provides opportunities for students to practise integrated language skills through topics such as travel, education, interesting places, important events, and inventions. The course also promotes independent and collaborative learning, the defence of opinions, and lifelong learning. It lays the groundwork for students to become more confident in using English for academic purposes and professional exploration, fostering a clear understanding of the importance of English in career and personal growth.

ENG3103 - English 3: 04 credits.

This course supports the development of students' vocabulary, grammar, pronunciation, and cultural competence related to English speaking societies. Students engage in communicative tasks involving themes such as personality, success, motivation, competition, social etiquette, and the arts. It also encourages independent learning, collaboration, critical thinking, and lifelong learning. The course provides a strong foundation for increased confidence in using English for academic and professional purposes, reinforcing its significance in students' future career paths.

ENG3104 - English 4: 04 credits.

In this course, students advance their language skills including vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation alongside deeper cultural awareness of English speaking countries. Communication tasks focus on more complex topics such as financial information, time management, and real-life challenges. The course promotes autonomy in learning, teamwork, critical thinking, and the development of lifelong learning habits. It prepares students to use English effectively for academic studies in related subjects and professional contexts, underlining the importance of English for ongoing personal and career development.

FRA2101- French 1: 04 credits.

This course helps students develop listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills, as well as basic knowledge of grammar and the ability to use essential vocabulary in everyday communication, such as describing people, objects, and planning for themselves.

FRA2102 - French 2: 04 credits.

This course helps students develop listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills, as well as basic grammar knowledge, enabling them to use essential vocabulary for more complex everyday communication compared to the French 1 course.

FRA2103 - French 3: 04 credits.

This course helps students develop listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills, as well as basic grammar knowledge, enabling them to use vocabulary at an intermediate level and address situations that require a higher level of language proficiency.

FRA2104 - French 4: 04 credits.

This course is designed to provide students with intermediate-level vocabulary and grammar structures in French, along with exercises to practice all four skills, with a particular focus on listening and speaking. Students will develop pronunciation and the ability to express themselves confidently using language materials from the textbook, centered around familiar topics in daily life, academic communication, and workplace settings, such as expressing agreement or disagreement during discussions and providing feedback.

JPN2101 - Japanese 1: 04 credits.

This course introduces students to basic Japanese, focusing on communication skills such as greetings and introductions. Students learn to read and write Hiragana and Katakana, use personal pronouns, and ask for basic information. Class time emphasizes speaking, listening, and group conversation practice, with a balanced workload to allow for interactive activities.

JPN2102 - Japanese 2: 04 credits.

9. The study programme is periodically reviewed, evaluated, and updated every two years. The review and evaluation results are applied by the program management unit to improve and enhance the quality of training.
10. If there is an urgent need to adjust the study program during its implementation, the programme management unit must submit a proposal clearly stating the basis/reason for the adjustment, the scope of application, the effective date, the content of the proposed adjustment, and the anticipated impact of the adjustment. The proposal must include the minutes of the Faculty Council meeting and other necessary evidence. Urgent adjustments to the study program must not affect the current semester's study plan. The Department of Academic Affairs receives the proposal from the programme management unit, reviews it, provides feedback, and submits it to the President for approval.
11. When there are changes to textbooks, teaching materials, reference materials, or due to urgent adjustments to the training programme, the detailed syllabus must be reviewed and updated. The course management unit collaborates with the program management unit to organize the review and update, specifying the effective date of the newly updated detailed syllabus. The detailed syllabus, once updated, is sent to the Department of Academic Affairs for review and submitted to the President for approval.
12. The maximum overall evaluation cycle for the study program is five years; the overall evaluation process is similar to the process for developing a new study program./.
